4	This is the first time that I was part of our Region 9 meetings, so I'm not sure if you merely want content suggestions---or typo suggestions as well. I find the content of these minutes to be amazingly well done. I noticed a few places where I think there are typos. In case you want those too, here they are! The following sentences have no periods at the end: Page 1 "Sister Jean Steffes CSA called the meeting to order at 1:00 p.m." "32 members were in attendance." Page 4 "The meeting adjourned at 5:00 p.m." "The group broke for lunch at 12:15." Page 8 "Sister Jean Steffes, CSA called the group to order at 8:45." "Sister Jean presented the power-point (On File)." Page 9 "There were no other recommendations."	4/23/2020 10:53 AM

Q7 Emerging Orientations Please submit a summary response from one team member regarding: What border, threshold, liminal space are we called to as an LCWR Region: the LCWR Board, the LCWR national office?

Answered: 13 Skipped: 6

Spring 2020 LCWR 9

#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	a. LCWR National serves to draw us into the global issues, pushing us into mission, and challenging us into facing the duality of coming to completion while we collaborate for new life energy. b. The LCWR focusing on younger sisters, may push the membership to relinquishing past models. c. The growing connections between LCWR & CMSWR initiated more regularly may be a growing edge. d. The LWCR Regions struggle to find adequate leadership, needing to explore cross-region cooperation.	4/23/2020 7:14 PM
2	As Leaders we are called to think outside the box, to be open to the new, take the time to be truly contemplative and to be with our sisters. We are called to be less in control, be more vulnerable and open to God's plan. We would like to continue being involved in preventing human trafficking. We support more global solidarity as an LCWR board and national staff.	4/23/2020 4:57 PM
3	NA Sister Pat Cormack sent ours.	4/23/2020 10:53 AM
4	The COVID 19 Pandemic has us seeing world countries engaging in greater collaboration than ever before. How do we keep that momentum going so we all can become global citizens working together for the good of humanity and Earth.	4/23/2020 9:56 AM
5	One is coming.	4/21/2020 12:57 PM
6	-build a sense of community within the human family by deepening our capacity to live with diversity and to build bridges through dialogue despite polarization. -out of our encounter with the holy, foster a respectful and compassionate response within our own communities and especially, as we call attention to areas where racism adversely affects basic human rights.	4/20/2020 3:20 PM
7	NA	4/17/2020 7:10 PM
8	Our reality impacts all that we are about. We know that our status as a province and membership in LCWR will change in June 2021. We ask the board and the national office to consider how the supports we will continue to need can be available to "no longer members" groups and the Regional gatherings through GHR remain available. A different widening of the tent.	4/17/2020 12:19 PM
9	LCWR Region: - Liminal space - many of us are on the threshold of closure - We are not to concentrate on diminishment at this time, but on what we are called to do and to be in our world today and as our communiites age. - We are still called to live religious life and its mission - We can still be a healing presence in our world and bring our voice and moral authority to the critical issues of today. Board: - We are not sure - our main connection with the board is through reflections and contemplative dialogue materials that come to us. National office: - We are all being forced to use technology during these days of the pandemic. LCWR needs to look at other ways to do things moving forward. - Contmplative dialogue is good, but, our team does not find the national meeting practical - how to do leadership today, how to fulfill the mission of religous life. We need skills and training for leadership for this age and time. - LCWR seems to have become a Peace and Justice organization - not a leadership organization. Communications from LCWR seem to focus on Peace and Justice (which is important). But go back to the Canonical Status of LCWR - what is the mission and purpose of LCWR? Leadership development is part of that. How is LCWR doing that today?	4/16/2020 2:48 PM
10	As LCWR9 we are called to embrace all five orientations. We have taken steps along the road particularly with the Wisconsin Religious Collaborative (WRC) and previously in JPIC with our Anti-Human Trafficking efforts. At this time we are called to continue to work together collaboratively. The issue of a more collaborative JPIC response is something that the region needs to address. Likewise the events of the past few weeks have shown us what can be done via technology. We have made good use of the website and have even streamed a couple of presentations, but there is much more that can be done. The past few weeks have shown the value of technology at the LCWR National level. If anything I am seeing more communications than before. Although in person gatherings have their place for networking, we are seeing that technological connections can get much of the work done. This will be increasingly important as we collaborate not only nationally, but internationally.	4/16/2020 2:42 PM
11	Continue to be partners with the Wisconsin Religious Collaborative. Form local chapters of Nuns and Nones. Support LGBTQ+ population.	4/14/2020 3:44 PM
12	(Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration): As an LCWR region (9), we are called to CONTINUE in the direction of the Wisconsin Religious Collaborative, crossing the borders of the INDIVIDUAL paradigm (congregation/mission/needs/resources) to the COLLECTIVE	4/14/2020 11:19 AM

paradigm. Let's grow our capacity to collaborate, share, and develop a strong regional node of our global sisterhood. The call to the LCWR board/national office is to continue to cross the generational, ethnic and cultural borders that will reorganize us into a more nimble, networked, representative global sisterhood - one that speaks and acts as a moral compass for the cosmic Common Good.

1	a. Public events were hosted in 2020 with speakers on two of three topics, until pandemic started. b. All three topics will be part of a formative experience at our annual community experience through panelists and a presentation from Sr. Sophia Parks.	4/23/2020 7:14 PM
2	Our Team has chosen migration and will pursue this through our Justice and Peace coordinators.	4/23/2020 4:57 PM
3	NA Sister Pat Cormack sent ours.	4/23/2020 10:53 AM
4	How do we not lose the ground we have gained climate-wise in these past 6 weeks because of the Pandemic? We can see the peaks of the Himalayas, Los Angeles has a clear skyline, stars can be seen again, etc. Can we use the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights as a road map for country to country commitment to behavior change and sharing of resources for the sake of humanity and Earth? If we do not address the basic needs for clean air and water and nutritious foods for all people, there is no need to preserve the planet.	4/23/2020 9:56 AM
5	Coming	4/21/2020 12:57 PM
6	As we ponder the social and ecological brokenness in our world, our call is to build a more just and sustainable world together. Our work toward change is based on the principle that all people are entitled to equal environmental protection regardless of race, color, or national origin. The pandemic of COVID19 has made it very clear that health disparities are rooted in inequalities. Our response is to advocate locally, regionally, and nationally against these disparities and for accessible and adequate health care as well as financial support for the most vulnerable populations. For example, persons of color, especially African Americans, the working-poor only a paycheck away from poverty, those living in dense living conditions such as the homeless shelters and prisoners etc. Actions: -to continue to collaborate locally, and regionally on advocacy for the support of human rights, especially for health care and just employment or financial support during the pandemic -advocate for the most vulnerable populations such as, undocumented immigrants held in detention centers, asylum seekers turned away at the southern border due to the Remain in Mexico order, DACA, etc. -to look anew at our investment guidelines in favor of leveraging an "economy designed to thrive."	4/20/2020 3:20 PM
8	The pandemic is a graphic reminder of inequalities at the intersection. We want to leverage this knowledge to advocate change in delivery of health care and education.	4/17/2020 12:19 PM
9	Regarding the resolution, we appreciate the Venn diagram used to show the intersection of Racism, Migration, Climate Crisis. The intersection meets at the respect for the dignity of all persons. We recommend a more spiritual and theological context for addressing the issues and the intersection of the issues. Our Region is doing well addressing Migration (our outhern border), Human Trafficking and Racism). Next as a region we need to look at ways to address the Climate Crisis. - Comments on the Resources provided: We appreciate the resources (especially the charts for scientific and social boundaries) provided by the Global Concerns Committee. However, we regret not being able to process those materials with a larger group. We missed having others to share with and being enriched by the cross section of ideas.	4/16/2020 2:48 PM
10	The overarching concern we have chosen for our continuing work on the 2019-2020 Assembly Resolution is racism. Our province book discussion this spring was Just Mercy. It followed 2019's Growing Up White. We have sisters working or volunteering with a number organizations working in 53206 and surrounding areas. Additionally sisters work with migrants and Native Americans who also suffer from racism and the injustices of our historical white privileged society.	4/16/2020 2:42 PM
11	COVID-19 is a manifestation of the disparities experienced by people related to health care and education. We intend to engage people, particularly the young people, in promoting participative governance in civil society.	4/14/2020 3:44 PM
12	We could not focus on just one concern, so we offer the areas that had the most energy in our conversation: - Care of the Earth - land conservation, use of fertilizers, water pollution - Racism - and it's impact on "voice", equity, health, and access to other resources. - Our rural communities - voices in rural areas are not heard and this impacts access to resources, networking, education, and immigration/migration.	4/14/2020 11:19 AM
